Look Years Younger Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

You can turn gray, tailed hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your looks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

GERMAN OFFENSIVE HAS COME TO A HALT

(By Associated Press)

While the advance of the German army in Picardy has come almost to a halt there has been savage fighting on the extreme western edge of the line north of Moreuil, but there seems to be no decided advantage on either side.

The Germans are claiming that they have taken the heights near this town and the woods in advance of their line near Moreuil, but the British state that they have driven back the enemy over that front and have retaken ground.

The French line further south has stood firm and in the line eastwards have taken some ground. This is a part of the line that was subjected to such terrible aerial last week. In a number of sectors the French have made some gains, and they have established their line solid along the Oise river.

The expected allied counter attack has not come, but the Germans who are entrenched on the French front evidently expect it on that line. The elements are working to delay the Germans. Rainy weather has prevailed and if it continues for any length of time it will be great advantage to the allies, as they are moving up their troops and supplies over hard ground, while the Germans are moving over soft and shell torn ground, that is soft and bad for artillery and supply trains.

The chief German offensive is around Moreuil and Albert and around these places the fighting has continued with unabated fury, with the Germans hurling their fighting men against the British lines, only to be mown down by machine guns, rifles, men and artillery, a terrible slaughter.

The German efforts in the Moreuil region is to reach the Amiens-Paris railroad, which is about five miles distant. The line cut by the Germans at Roumania and Russia have negotiated a treaty by which the Roumanians agreed to evacuate Bessarabia. Germany sent a protest to Petrograd against the Bolshevik sending troops into Finland and threatening that unless it is stopped, to take action.

Turkuk is reported to have been captured by the Teutonic prisoners who have been armed and are being organized under their old officers.

ENGLAND PLEASED WITH GEN. FOCH

London, April 1.—Unanimous approval is given the appointment of General Foch to be generalissimo of the allied forces in France by the morning newspapers, including those which have been loudest in their opposition to such a move. Many colonists are devoted to his career.

"The appointment," says the Daily Mail, "secures complete unity, a sole, less asset on the side of the Allies, and means that the movements of Field Marshal Haig and General Foch will be linked together."

The Daily Telegraph says: "In conferring this authority upon the most distinguished and successful of French generals in the field, the allied governments have come at length to what from a purely military standpoint is the incontestable right thing."

The Daily News declares that Premier Lloyd George's statement on the appointment puts an end to a controversy which never should have been allowed to arise, and adds: "Assuming that General Foch's powers are confined to the limits laid down by the premier and that the responsibility for the conduct of the British campaign still rests unimpaired with the British commander, the main objections to the creation of a generalissimo vanish, and it is even possible to share President Wilson's belief that the new unity of command is a hopeful augury."

The Morning Post says: "For those with whom success for the allied arms is the first consideration, this is no moment to look askance at any measure."

ago, when the soldiers of the United States were on their way to take their place in the zone of the

had driven back the enemy over that front and have retaken

The report from General Pershing to the War Department was that conditions were improving but gave no information regarding the movement of the American troops.

It is not probable that the German General Staff are contented with their present position and many believe that they are getting ready for a great blow at the Italian front. Home reports that they are massing troops for activity on the Asiago plateau. Attempts of the Austrians to advance in Albania on the east coast of the Adriatic have been repulsed by the Italians.

British troops in Mesopotamia have added another success, having pushed forward from Bagdad to near Aleppo. If the British can hold Aleppo and there join the forces of Gen. Allenby which have worked north from Palestine, they will have cut off the Arab peninsula, and have isolated the Ottoman troops.

Roumania and Russia have negotiated a treaty by which the Roumanians agreed to evacuate Bessarabia. Germany sent a protest to Petrograd against the Bolshevik sending troops into Finland and threatening that unless it is stopped, to take action.

CELTIC, WHITE STAR LINER, TORPEDOED

New York, April 1.—The steamship Celtic, one of the big White Star liners, was torpedoed, according to reliable information received today in marine circles here, during a voyage from England to America. Efforts were made to save the vessel, which, it is believed, carried no passengers.

The Celtic has a gross tonnage of 20,904 and has for many years been one of the largest steamships in transatlantic service. She was built at Belfast in 1901 and flies the British flag.

A RUSSIAN INSURANCE SCHEME

Petrograd, April 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A bill providing insurance in case of illness for persons of any race in Russia who are in any branch of trade or labor, including domestic servants, has been passed by the Central Executive Committee of the Soldiers' Workmen's and Peasants' deputies.

Medical aid is to be provided from hospital funds, which are to be organized in large towns and in the various districts, and consist of first aid stations, hospital treatment, etc. This is to be supplemented by medicines given gratis, and by a free supply of nourishing food.

Monetary assistance from the hospital funds is given in cases of sickness accompanied by incapacity to work, in cases of child birth and in cases of death for funeral expenses.

It is provided that the monetary aid in cases of illness shall equal the full wage of the worker and shall be paid from the first day of incapacity owing to sickness until the day of full recovery.

The hospital funds are to be created from deposits made by employers amounting to 10 per cent of the wage of each member of the hospital funds, from the profits, or property belonging to the hospital funds and from subscriptions.

SLAYER OF COHEN IS ARRESTED

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 1.—A man identified as the slayer of Harry Cohen who was shot and killed by a gunman for fear that he was going to give the police important information was arrested this evening. He was identified by Joseph Edney, a negro elevator operator. He gave his name as Maurice Tathenbergs and said that he was a bartender, but he denied that he had shot Cohen or that he knew anything about it. He was however locked up.

MILITIA SUPPRESSES RIOTING

(By Associated Press)

Quebec, April 1.—Rioting by the anti-conscriptionists again broke out here tonight and the military government which has taken charge are taking vigorous measures to suppress it. The Cavalry have charged the mob, injuring many and arresting as many of the leaders as they can reach.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—calomel, cathartics. How you hated them; how you fought against taking them.

"With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well founded. Their tender little "insists" are injured by them."

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep their infants' health laxative handy; they know children like to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and that its teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of confections sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

U.S. URGED TO DELIVER THE GOODS

London, April 1.—The Sunday Herald, a weekly paper of immense circulation, prints an article from Lloyd Fraser, a well-known writer for the Northcliffe press, whom it describes as "one of our ablest publicists" on the subject of Germany's supreme victory. In concluding the article after discussing the subject of halting the military age, the writer sums up as follows: Four courses are open:

First—to accelerate and intensify the output so far as war industrial requirements will permit.

Second—to apply compulsion to the land if the Government summons Englishmen of fifty to the colors while afraid to deal with young Ireland then it is too cowardly to fight Germany effectively.

Third—to speed up American reinforcements. There are twenty million men of military age in the United States, which entered war a year ago next Saturday, and which always has been regarded as a land of hustle.

Fourth—to begin a diversion in Siberia by the Japanese army. Japan possesses nearly sixty divisions which have been immobilized largely owing to Washington.

Until Washington has delivered the goods it has no right to adopt a policy which tends to keep a powerful army out of the war while the Western Allies are bleeding from gaping wounds.

We get a great many admiring messages from the United States and I hope the above message may go across the ocean. I have many American friends and never knew of them to resent plain speaking.

APRIL OPENS WITH NEW RECORD FOR TEMPERATURE

Monday was one of the warmest days for April first for many years. It was a continuation of the ideal spring weather of Sunday, with a higher temperature.

There was a warm southerly wind and at noon the temperature was 76 in the shade and it remained well above the sixties until well after sunset. The warm spell is working wonders with the frost, which is coming out of the ground fast and the roads are in really remarkable condition for this time of the year.

PRACTICAL PATRIOTISM

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, charged with the government's war program of increased food production, has found no single factor more inspiring than the enthusiasm and the success with which business men through their commercial organizations in the towns and cities, are turning their talents and energies to the agricultural problem. They have entered into an adequate appreciation of the vast importance of the production of food. They understand the pressing necessity of securing a sufficient supply of farm labor, and they know it must be supplied by emergency workers from the towns and the cities. They see that the farmer's war problems and the business man's war problems—and they are working very wholeheartedly with the farmer to solve them.

For instance in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the Chamber of Commerce held conferences with the farmers—business men, mechanics, attended by three hundred "fifty" hundred farmers who came in from all parts of the country to meet the business men and discuss their farmers' needs. As a result the Chamber of Commerce has undertaken an elaborate program of co-operation with the farmers of the county—the raising of a fund of $10,000 to be available for individual financial assistance where necessary; assistance in the purchase of farm machinery and other sup-

Portsmouth, N. H., Tuesday, April 2, 1918.

The Associated Press.

Intelligent readers of newspapers not only want the news when it is news, but they want it from a source which they know to be reliable. And especially at such a time as the present, when the most important and thrilling news is to be disseminated day after day, do they demand that what they read in their papers shall be dependable so far as it lies in human power to make it so.

And it is at such a time that the Associated Press, the oldest, ablest and most reliable news-gathering agency in the world, shines with ever-increasing luster. Its service has for years been recognized as superior to all others of the kind, and since the beginning of the great war it has constantly justified its claims to distinction. This paper is proud to be numbered among the vast array of newspapers served by the Associated Press.

The resources of this great organization are practically unlimited. Its financial means are equal to all demands and its work is in the hands of trained men of demonstrated ability and wide experience. It is in direct contact with the important affairs of the world in all parts of the world, and is able to give its members the benefits of a system of news gathering and dissemination that has never been equalled.

The Associated Press does its work thoroughly. It does not experiment or take chances in the hope of securing a "beat." It learns what is going on and supplies its members with facts and not with guess-work. This policy has been followed from the day of its organization, and the result is that it has the absolute confidence of newspaper readers all over the world.

The Associated Press is not in itself sensational. It gathers and sends out the news, whatever the news may be, and the facts are presented as they are. Because of this the public's confidence in this unparalleled news agency is unqualified.

Readers of the newspapers served by the Associated Press have learned that they can depend upon it, and they do depend upon it. Their confidence has been won by square dealing and is retained by unvarying adherence to a policy which has resulted in the development and upbuilding of an organization that has no equal in its line of work.

It is needless for this paper to say that it is proud of its membership in this great organization. It is impossible for a paper of this size to avail itself of the full service of the Associated Press, but it takes pride and pleasure in furnishing its readers with the best, so far as it goes; and is able to go far enough to present in concise form the essential elements of the important news of the day. And when its readers have perused its columns they are in a position to know that they have read the news, and not a guess or a gamble.

It is claimed that delay in the construction of airplanes has been partly due to the employment in the factories of enemy agents who have "monkeyed" with the machines in a way to render them partly or wholly useless. It would seem that the authorities in charge of the work ought to have been able to prevent anything of this sort. On the whole, it seems like a rather flimsy excuse for the bungling of a big and important job.

United States Senator Gallinger of this state celebrated his 81st birthday in Washington a few days ago and received the hearty congratulations of his fellow members of both parties. He has done and is doing a service which gives him high standing in his state and the country, and all hope his present vigor of mind and body will continue until the close of his term in 1821, when he purposed to retire.

"American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time" is the pressing need of the hour according to David Lloyd George, prime minister of England. This is no false alarm, and the War Department should govern itself accordingly. The time for nibbling around the edges has gone by and the time for vigorous action is at hand.

All in a position to aid in establishing Portsmouth's "Roll of Honor" should respond promptly to the invitation to do so. Let the list be completed at the earliest possible date, that all may know and honor the names of the young men of this city who are voluntarily in the service of their country on land and sea.

Are there no dogs in Australia? They manage to raise wool there and send it to this country, where it brings $1.75 a pound. If they could get that price New England farmers would be likely to be heard from, dogs or no dogs.

"Nothing to report," says General Pershing with reference to the American troops in France, but a French captain says they "fight like veterans." And we are inclined to believe the French captain.

The Vernal Peril Threatens

(From the Springfield Union)

The season of forest fires is at hand, and now more than ever is there need of the utmost watchfulness and care to guard against serious timber losses and other property destruction. There has been more than the usual wood cutting activity in the last few weeks, causing accumulations of brush heaps on which the flames may feed and increasing the danger to the cordwood stacked in piles and waiting to be carted away. With the fuel situation as it has been, and with the possibility that there may be another fuel shortage next winter, the need of safeguarding the timber supply should be apparent.

Wait For the Third Act

The first act is ended," says Von Hindenburg.

The gentleman is in error. It is the second act that has ended. In the first act, if we have not forgotten our melodrama, the diabolical plot is concealed, the villain makes his plans and vanishes, with every prospect from the hero's standpoint seemingly full of promise. In the second act the villain puts his plans into execution; the curtain falls upon the hero about to perish beneath an onrushing train, or to be blown to pieces by a bomb. Vice is triumphant and the villain gloeful. It is in this act that we have just witnessed with Von Hindenburg rubbing his hands and chuckling as he looks upon the success of his work.

But the third act is the act where the villain gets his."

And the third act is to come.

Wait for it.

(From the Kansas City Times)

These critical days on the western front can have only one effect on America. They will bring home to every person the need of concentrating every energy and purpose on the single aim of winning this war.

If only we could be doing our share in France today for the cause of civilization!

That wish must translate itself into action as rapidly and as effectively as possible. It is impressed on us now as never before that every day is precious. We must build ships, train men, manufacture guns and airplanes with the energy that comes from the knowledge that on the promptness of our nation may depend the outcome of the war.

The message from France to America today remains: "For God's sake, hurry!"

What We Should Do

(From the Kansas City Star)

The only safe way for America to proceed is on the assumption that the war is just beginning. We ought to plan exactly as though we were going to fight Germany alone. We have no artillery in France and no airplanes.

Our expeditionary force has not reached numbers to constitute more than a mere reserve in such a battle as is now raging. We cannot, according to General Wood, expect to make our weight felt for another year. These facts must be met squarely. If they are appreciated by the American people there will be instant public demand for a broader foundation for our whole military structure, so that when it does come to completion it will be adequate to the task to which it will be applied.

An army of four or five million men ships to transport and maintain them are necessary, plus an army supply overhead, cannon to give a clear path across any terrain, machine guns in limitless number, these are the things America must set its face to if it is to meet what is ahead. America has its warning in the guns of Hindenburg now roaring, in the British front falling back. It has it in the grave words of General Wood, who has seen and studied the situation. Will it regard that warning and act now before it is too late?

A Precious Hour

Philosophers, connoisseurs of human nature, and those historians who ascribe the fall of Rome to a malaria mosquito will be heard to remark that no permanent change in mankind's inevitable trend toward night-life can be accomplished by mere legislation. They will point out that the shortening of daylight and the lengthening of illuminated hours have coincided almost exactly with the improvement of lighting and the growth of material prosperity. Daylight has always been devoted to work; artificial light to amusement. Hence, as soon as immediate pressure is removed, these scientists would maintain, we shall once again fall into old ways, like sleepers, theatres and late rising. However that may be, for the present the new schedule will present us with an additional daylight hour, and therefore, for purposes of work, really with an entirely new resource in time. What to do with this added hour ought not to be hard to discover, under present international circumstances. What not to do with it might be more difficult to determine. For one thing, a firm resolution not to talk nonsense about matters which we don't understand, such as military tactics in France and the Administration's war measures, ought to be among the first adopted.

America's Warning

No American can possibly misread the meaning of General Wood's statement in the Senate Military Committee—or those portions of it that have been allowed to reach the public. The meaning of it is that America's military preparations—great as we have thought them—are inadequate to the tremendous task before us, and would be inadequate even if those preparations were complete.

If the National Army now in cantonments were in France it would not be big enough to play the part our allies have, in reason, expected of us. We must broaden the foundations upon which our Army is building its expectation of it for the future are to be met, and that can be accomplished only by the immediate adoption of the universal training and service principle. We ought now to be training the Army—that is to follow the present selective Army—now, in cantonments to France. General Wood has not underrated the job before us in suggesting that two million men in France and two million more in training camps are not too many. There can be no end to this war until Germany is thoroughly beaten, and it is only the truth to say that Germany is today showing great strength.

LADIES NIGHT AT JOHN LANGDON CLUB

J. Edgar Park Gives Able Address to Large Crowd.

The John Langdon Club of the North Church had its annual "ladies' night" observance last evening in the North Church chapel. A good number were in attendance, and the evening one of social interest.

The speaker of the evening, J. Edgar Park, gave a most interesting talk, his topic being "Around Army and Navy Encampments," basing his remarks on his personal experiences, having passed some time in army camps and naval reservations on the east coast of this country, working under the Y. M. C. A. for the enlisted men.

The speaker pictured different training camps he had visited and the types of men met there. He spoke of camps in the South, in Virginia and West Virginia, and told how he had to adjust his talks to his audience. One night he would speak to 800 negroes in the service, then being transferred to another camp his audience would be made up of boys who could neither read nor write; in another camp his hearers would be 8 per cent New York Jews, the next audience perhaps largely Irish and another would be army officers from the best families of New York city, while another audience would be made up almost wholly of college men, who had enlisted for the war.

The health of the enlisted men in camp was referred to by the speaker. He said it was rather wrong to think there was such a large percentage of sickness in the camps. While there is more or less illness it should be realized that enlisted men after a physical examination are often sent to the camp hospital for minor ailments which they had at home. Such men often undergo some minor operation and come out of the hospital minus their aches and pains and made physically fit for service.

It was Mr. Park's mission to go among the enlisted men and cheer up those who seemed to need good cheer, by telling of visiting some camp where there was a yodeling company giving entertainment that week and he felt that it was the greatest victory of his life that he, a clergyman, was given an encore after his talk on "Cheer up" as it came directly in the middle of the program.

Many advantages of the routine and discipline of army life were referred to by the lecturer. He told of the carelessness of the average throngs of civilians arriving in the camps to train as soldiers, but after starting to train were taught how to sit and stand; to drill in the open air and have plenty of out of door exercise. The army food, he said, was good and the men were allowed plenty to eat. Uncle Sam, he said, looks well after the morals of his men and if a soldier goes wrong in an army camp of the average type he goes because he does not want to keep to the right. The government aims to have its men taken care of and the speaker told of one instance where conditions in the surrounding towns to a training camp were bad for the men. Word was sent out by the army officials that the conditions must be righted or the place would be absolutely cut off from the men, meaning a business loss to the town. The adverse conditions were at once remedied.

Mr. Park said, contrary to the opinion of many, the enlisted men in camps are having the time of their lives. They feel they are doing something worthwhile. The man with a grudge had one before he left home, but such a man can lower the efficiency of a whole barracks 10 per cent by going around with a grudge on. A hero is only a hero when he does a thing gladly, and the rank and file of these young men who have gone to the call of their country are in the war with the highest ideals.

The speaker interspersed his talk with numerous amusing stories and witty sayings which made it all the more entertaining. At the close he received hearty applause.

A social hour followed and harlequin ice cream, assorted cake and coffee served.

HELP PUSH ASIDE THE STREET KNOCKERS

Portsmouth has a big job on its hands and it should have the cooperation of every patriotic citizen. "Old City by the Sea" is coming to its own in spite of the little crowd of knockers. It is going to succeed in spite of them and it is not necessary to name them. True, some of them keep under cover and to their work in the determination to kill every Joe-gee that is started that they are not cognizant of.

Readers of The Herald are optimists. They cannot help from being so they read a clean, progressive newspaper that is for Portsmouth and the best interests of the country. If you want to help our city join in the campaign of boosting. Every time you hear the knockers, look them over and ask yourself this question: "What have they done for Portsmouth?"

We want to make our newcomers contented and happy. Let's give them a hearty welcome and show them that we are alive.

MY TIRED FEET ACHE FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tormented feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive into that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. All how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

ICE BREAKS UP IN SWAMSCOTT RIVER

The ice went out of the Swamscott River Sunday night on the ebb tide, it being three days later than in 1917.

It is now practically clear to the first turn about a mile down stream; the ice caked however, being thicker than for many years. Monday huge cakes of ice floated back and forth in the river with the tide; they averaging over two feet in thickness, and some of them reach large proportions otherwise. It is not thought that damage will result to the Newfields-Stratton bridge, although it is likely to receive some hard bumps from the caked ice.

Large cakes are also going over the dam of the Exeter Manufacturing Co., which are attracting much attention.

The date this year is two days earlier than in 1916, which was April 2.

Temperature records compiled during the past month shows that the average temperature was 31.5 degrees as compared with 32.1 in 1917; the maximum being on the 31st, when it was 65 degrees, and the minimum on March 8 at 6 below zero.

GREAT VALUES

GOING AFTER THE LOAFERS IN NEW JERSEY

(By Associated Press)

Camden, N. J., April 2.—They are going after the idlers in New Jersey. All over the state the police and state officers are planning to round up the loafers under the Anti-Loafing law recently passed by the legislature.

There will be no distinction. Hoboes and idlers if they do not work will be put in the same class. All are required to put in at least 36 hours each week at work of some kind. If any one refuses to obey the law it means a fine of $100, three months in jail, or both.

Plans for carrying out the provisions of the new law were discussed at a recent meeting of police officials and sheriffs from all parts of New Jersey. Sheriff Carson of Camden county said after the conference that idlers, without regard to their station in life will be seized and will be allowed one week to go to work or else face prosecution.

The State Commissioner of Labor submitted the following plan for the enforcement of the law: Whenever an officer of the law sees an idler he will take him to the nearest police station. There the man must fill out a form card which will indicate the kind of work he's best fitted for. He will then be directed to hunt for work. The card will be turned over to one of the public employment offices. If the man cannot find work the employment bureau will offer him a choice of jobs. If he should reject this offer a specific job will be picked out for him. If he still refuses to go to work he will be prosecuted.

Large posters announcing the provisions of the law and warning idlers that it will be enforced will be sent to all sheriffs with instructions to display them prominently.

ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP GROWING FAST

Meetings to Come.

Monday, April 1—Salem to be addressed by Mr. Hulse.

Tuesday, April 2—East Kingston.

Wednesday, April 3—Derry.

Last week was one of active work among the Clubs of the farmers and the embryo organizations of the boys and girls.

Chester.

A meeting was held in the interests of the Boys and Girls' Club movement and the call brought out twenty-eight young people. Mr. N. A. Carlisle gave an interesting address and explained the objects of the club formation. It was followed by Miss Mary Sanborn, who spoke in the same trend in regard to the Girls' clubs.

A good interest was shown and the promise is of a good club. Enrollment blanks were distributed.

Londonderry.

A conference of farmers and hay dealers was held yesterday at the State House, with a view of increasing the sale of New England grown hay.

A classification was decided upon of the different grades, which will be submitted to the National Hay Association by G. W. Crampton of the Chamber of Commerce, with the request that it be adopted.

The classifications follow:

No. 1 New England hay shall be Timothy with not more than one-sixth mixture of clover or other tame grasses, or their mixtures.

No. 2 New England hay shall be Timothy not coarse enough to be classed with No. 1, with 50 percent of other tame grasses, which may include 25 percent clover; good color, sound and well baled.

Prof. Wolf took up the subject of the farm garden and handled it in such a manner that each of his audience had resolved to do more in this line of production at the close of his address.

Dr. Hyde presided and added a word of inspiration as the psychological moments arrived.

Club Membership

The following is the membership of each club on Saturday last. The roll is rapidly growing and the 1000 mark is looming up in the near distance.

Do you bl to pass the thousand mark. One new member by each of the present association would make the County leave New England. Looks easy and is easy if each man works.

claim on the heavyweight champion ship of the world weighs less than 100.

Jack Barry, manager of the Boston Navy Yard team has cancelled the Fast Day game at Dover. Barry and his ex-leaguers will play at Manchester on that date.

George McCurdy of Newburyport, Mass., who will referee the boxing bouts in this city Friday evening, has had many years experience in the game, and before taking up his residence in the Massachusetts city, he toured the country with several boxers of world-wide reputation. When George takes charge of a boxing contest he is ringmaster at all times.

The Bumpkin Island Naval Reserve will have a fast ball team this summer and are now looking for games with fast New England clubs. The service team will have the pick of many of the crack college players. Stewart, a former International League pitcher will top off the battery.

Question: "Did you ever hear of a wrestler who gave his correct weight?" Answer: "Don't talk foolish." Question: "Is it an easy matter to get a mat man on the scales?" Answer: "Yes, if you 'gas' him." Exchange. You said it.

The Rochester High school baseball schedule for 1918 is as follows: April, Sanford at Rochester; April 25 (Fast Day) Laconia at Laconia; April 27, Somersworth at Central Park; May 1, Farmington at Rochester; May 6, Berwick Academy at South Berwick; May 8, Sanford at Sanford; May 11, Portland at Rochester; May 16, open; May 18, Portsmouth at Rochester; May 25, Dover at Rochester; May 30, Dover at place not determined (an exhibition game); June 1, Berwick Academy at Rochester; June 5, Portsmouth at Portsmouth; June 8, open; June 12, Dover at Central Park; June 13, Farmington at Farmington; June 15, Laconia at Rochester. The games with Dover, Berwick Academy and Somersworth are league games.

What the Honor Roll did at Cedarhurst, Long Island, the only town which employed it on the Second Loan, proves the tremendous force of the idea. On the First Loan Cedarhurst took $16,000 worth of Liberty Bonds through 350 subscribers; on the Second, 3400 subscribers took $1,200,000. Yet Cedarhurst was just an average American community with perhaps more citizens of foreign birth than the average and many citizens of small means.

All that the Liberty Loan Committee did was to make public daily by day acknowledgement, not of money subscriptions but of the list of those who had answered the call of the nation; and by giving this list the honor that was due, perhaps others to secure a place.

To the Honor Roll idea has been added for the whole country for the Third Liberty Loan the Service Flag idea. Those who acknowledge their debt to the nation by aiding with their money will receive widest public recognition for their act. Enrollment among bond holders will not credit just as it was enlistment in the ranks of army or navy.

Those who enlist money in the Government service will have a symbol to display in the form of the Service Flag. This is like a Service Flag in design and in spirit. It is rectangular, with a broad red border surrounding white field, the field bearing three vertical blue bars marking the Third Liberty Loan.

There will be no provision on the flag to show the amount subscribed. The slogan "This flag in your window will help win the war" is counted upon to vindicate the way to win subscriptions.

Whether it is one $50 bond or 50 bonds at $1,000 each, the same credit will be given on the public Honor Roll. The name of the subscriber beneath this caption.

THESE ARE THE PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN WHO ARE HELPING TO WIN THE WAR BY INVESTING IN GOVERNMENT BONDS OF THIS THIRD LIBERTY LOAN.

This Honor Roll will be displayed in some public place. It will be reproduced from day to day in news-

Three amendments to the by laws were approved and adopted.

Five applications for membership were received and elected.

The club is looking for a very important year, the course is rounding into condition after the hard winter in remarkable shape and already there has been considerable playing. There will be a large increase in the membership, owing to the new industries and the navy yard which has brought in many golfers and the daylight saving plan makes it possible for the members to get in a round of golf after work, especially those who stop work at five o'clock.

A dancing assembly for club members and their guests will be held at Peirce hall this evening, for which Mrs. H. C. Taylor, Mrs. G. B. Lord and Mrs. H. W. Poyer will act as hostesses.

During the night I was obliged to get up a good many times to pass them. Although I tried various medicines, I was unable to get relief until I began using Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills, procured at Phillips' Pharmacy. They helped me from the first and a couple of boxes cured me.

Y. M. C. A. SUPPLIES CAPTURED

Paris, April 2—Equipment valued at more than $20,000 sent by the American Army Y. M. C. A. to the British front for the use of American railway engineers and other American units, virtually all has fallen into the hands of the Germans. Four times the Y. M. C. A. men moved their positions, and they abandoned during the retreat one large wooden building, two large tents and a quantity of supplies.

The Bumpkin Island Naval Reserve will have a fast ball team this summer and are now looking for games with fast New England clubs. The service team will have the pick of many of the crack college players. Stewart, a former International League pitcher will top off the battery.

The only casualty among the Y. M. C. A. workers at the front has been that of Miss Marion G. Crandall, previously reported killed by a shell.

The Y. M. C. A. has placed its cars at the front and elsewhere at the disposal of the British and French in removing wounded soldiers and refugees.

Bowdoin college varsity candidates will take up strict training Wednesday at the beginning of the spring term for a hard schedule ahead. The champion collegians of Maine in 1917 will have only three of last year's players with them but the variety trying out for the positions gives Bowdoin promise of having much to do with deciding diamond honors for the Pine Tree state again this year.

The Honor principle will be carried right to the top. All the towns that have won the Honor Flag will have their names, permanently reported on the Roll of Honor at the State Capitol.

Whether it is one $50 bond or 50 bonds at $1,000 each, the same credit will be given on the public Honor Roll.

Once won, the Honor Flags and the names on the rolls of honor are historic mementoes that will not be the least of the family treasures when the relics of this war for human liberty are displayed to future generations by those who helped to win it by purchasing Liberty Bonds.

WHY WE SEND OUR WHEAT TO EUROPE

Concord, N. H.—No question is more frequently asked than why we send wheat to Europe and stint our own people. The answer is simple. We send wheat that the Allies may make of it a war bread which contains from 25 to 50 per cent. wheat substitutes. Wheat is necessary for a bakery loaf. Corn meal, buckwheat and other flours will make bread but the loaves will not stand 24 hours handling between the oven and table. These flours can be used only for home baking.

Nobody bakes bread in the home in Europe. The farmers there do not live on their farms but in villages and all depend on the village baker. This wholesale baking of an entire community saves fuel and was the rule in time of peace. Now that coal in France costs from $110 to $135 a ton individual baking is not possible.

WORKMEN MAKE PRESENTATION TO MR. ASHWORTH

Navy Yard Men Extend Well Wishes and Give Him Several Presents.

The esteem in which Master Shipsmith Luke Ashworth of the navy yard smith shop was held by the workmen was demonstrated Monday when he was called to the shop office and presented with the following article as a remembrance of the good feeling and respect which has existed between the shop crew and Mr. Ashworth since he took charge of the plant: alligator traveling bag, safety razor set, manicure set, gold watch chain, case of briar pipes and tobacco.

It was hard work for the recipient to respond to the presentation but he finally found words which came from the heart and expressed himself most feelingly for the costly gifts and the well wishes of the men who have labored with him the past eight years.

PORSCMOUTH, N.H.

Music a war-time necessity

Imagine, if you can, a nation going into war without the thrill of music! Imagine, if you can, a nation battling through the dark days of a prolonged struggle without the heartening comfort of music!

The Victrola is literally the nation's chief source of music. More Americans—and Americans in the making—have learned "The Star Spangled Banner" from the Victrola than from any other one source.

Victrola

The Victrola is in millions of homes. It is in camp; on shipboard, in the trenches, the hospitals, the schools, and the churches. It is one of the greatest—if not the greatest—means of diversion.
